It was a pleasure and an honor for me to serve as Chairman of the Bicentennial Committee, and I wish to thank the Committee members, citizens, teenagers and friends for their cooperation in making our celebration a great success.

May the "Spirit of '67" live on.

AMAH R. HOWARD

Chairman of the Bicentennial Committee

REPORT OF VETERANS MEMORIAL PLAQUE COMMITTEE

A bronze plaque with a silhouette of Jerry Dean Pillsbury and honoring the World War II servicemen not their coopration in making our celebration a great success, previously listed followed by the names of those serving during the Korean Conflct and Viet Nam Crisis to date was mounted on a new stone set in front of the Dunbar Library, opposite the plaques honoring those of the War of 1812 to World War II.

A Roster containing the names of all men and women from Grantham who have served their country at any time since the beginning of World War II was hung in the library.

On August 19, a dedication of the plaque, in memory of Jerry Pillsbury, was held as part of the Bicentennial. Taking part in the program was Rev. Hollis French, Congressman James Cleveland, and the Marine Color Guard from Manchester, N. H.

The plaque, costing $545.00 plus $35.00 mounting charge was paid for in part by a food sale, The Pillsbury Fund, and many very generous donations.

The committee, consisting of Janis Hastings, Paul Romaine, Kenneth Flewelling, Kenneth Barton, and Everett Reney wishes to thank Mrs. Joyce Barton for her many hours of help and all others who in any way helped make this all possible.

GRANTHAM BICENTENNIAL REPORT

The first meeting of the Bicentennial Committee met at my house on March 16, 1967. Present were all of the members except one. The last meeting was on August 13th at my house. Approximately ten meetings were held in all, either at my home or at Joey Holmes with most of the members of the committee present at every meeting. I would like to say here that attendance was excellent at all of the meetings which were numerous and sometimes lengthy. We had excellent cooperation from everyone involved in putting on this celebration. At our first meeting Amah Howard was elected Chairman; Jeannine Currier, Vice Chairman; Eleanor Reney, Secretary; Joey Holmes, Treasurer. It was suggested that it would be appropriate to combine the Centennial of the Grange with the Bicentennial of the Town, so the dates of August 18, 19, and 20 were chosen and a list of events.

Friday evening, which opened the week-end of the Bicentennial, was dedicated to the Grange. We had a very successful open house at the Grange Hall at which there was standing room only and just a little of that. Mr. Carl Adams, State Master of the Grange and Mr. Ray Burton were guest speakers. One of our native daughters, Anita Barton MacDonald gave the History of Grantham. (We have since asked Anita to give us the history and at a later date the Committee hopes to have pamphlets printed with the history in it available to everyone). Mrs. Lora Barton, elected Queen of the Bicentennial, was crowned Friday evening by the Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, Carly Benoit and was presented a Revere Bowl. Lora was also presented with a bouquet of roses by the newest native of Grantham, Cindy Holmes. After the program, refreshments were served and it was a very enjoyable evening.

Saturday morning the weatherman was very kind to us and brought us a beautiful day and Kenny Barton and Alfred Holmes were the guys responsible for a very successful country auction. The auction netted us a whacking sum of $238.00, pure profit. All items were generously donated and our bearded auctioneer who did a bang-up job was all for free.

Saturday afternoon was the dedication of the Memorial Plaque in front of the Library at which Congressman James Cleveland presented the town with a flag from the Capitol. The dedication and program was ably arranged by the Plaque Committee; Janis Hastings, Ken Barton, Ken Flewelling, Paul Romaine and Mike Reney. After the program a reception was held in the Town Hall at which punch and a beautifully decorated and delicious home-baked cake, made by Janis Hastings was served by the Reception Committee; Earline Pillsbury, Evelyn Gay and Dovie Story.

Following the Dedication came the highlight of the Celebration — The Parade. I think everyone will agree that Grantham's parade was the best the town had ever had. The Committee, Link and Verna Mayo and Pete and Phyllis Forest undertook a difficult job when they took over the Parade Committee but the results were the best ever. At least a thousand people lined the streets of our fair town to see floats, horrors, a fine show of horses and ponies, and of course a drum and bugle corps made up of youngsters from the White River area.

People came from far and near to see our parade and no one went away disappointed.

Saturday evening was the big night of the Costume Dance. Many came in period costumes and the floor was packed for round and square dancing. Prizes were awarded for the best costumes for adults and children. The dance was a monetary success netting us $110. The committee for the dance was Hap and Eleanor Reney and Carly and Kate Benoit.

On Saturday morning the weatherman double-crossed us and gave us a showery, well let's face it rainy day. Church services were well attended and the sermon was given by a former Grantham resident, Rev. Lauren Flewelling. The field day scheduled for Sunday afternoon went off just the same between showers. Joe Forest, Debbie Hall, Rosie Howard and Ellen Pillsbury are to be congratulated for an excellent horse show. After the horse show, there were sack races, three-legged races and a baseball game. The married men played against the single men and believe it or not the married men won. We had a very successful blueberry pie eating contest and I heard that there was pie on a lot of grown-up faces as well as young. We had 32 pies donated by the women of the town.

Our one and only flop was the barbeque of which I will not go into detail. I guess every celebration is entitled to one event that just doesn't make it. Well ours was the barbeque. We worked very hard just trying to interest someone in coming to Grantham to give the barbeque and then we ended up with someone only half way interested and they did a halfway job. But all in all I think everyone will agree that our Bicentennial was a huge success. We are very proud to report that we ended up with $361.00 in the treasury. It was a lot of hard work for everyone involved but a lot of fun. I for one am sorry that I won't be here to work on the next one. Many thanks should go to Miss Bernice Howe who printed our invitations of which we sent out 325, also for gathering together addresses of people who lived here years ago and for printing our napkins; to Ella Reney who helped gather addresses, saw to a lot of our publicity and pictures and worked on the booklet with Amah; to Myrtle Howe who alone painted the library and most of the library hall; to June Horton who addressed all our envelopes and printed all our trophies in her beautiful handwriting and cleaned and cleaned; to Mary Traegde and Joyce Barton who put on a rummage sale so we could have money to buy our Bicentennial buttons; to Elwin Kimball who donated his field for our field day; Bob Osgood and Dwight Phetteplace for getting the baseball team together; and of course to the committee members themselves who served on numerous committees not even mentioned, and to everyone big and small who helped make our Bicentennial one of the best in any town.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT

To the Citizens and Voters of the Grantham School District:

FOREWORD

Each year I have pointed out the necessity of having more support for education from the state level. The local citizens and taxpayers have supported education over the years for the most part, but from the beginning of our state, education has been a responsibility of the state level of government. However, the property taxpayer has supported education throughout the state, with less than 10% of the revenue to run our schools supplied by the state. Grantham is fortunate in one sense in that the share of the local tax dollar for education dropped from 78% in 1962 to 60% in 1966. The percentage increased this past year and will continue to rise unless something is done to more fully implement the state aid program.

Grantham received $13,554.03 in foundation aid for 1967-68 and is scheduled to get $15,294.39 for 1968-69. However, if the state had raised sufficient funds to implement the program as it is outlined in the statutes, Grantham would receive sufficient funds to nearly pay for its present budget. This would enable the district to adjust its salary schedule for its teachers, add vital services and programs without having to raise the tax rate.

Another program on the statutes is state aid for the mentally retarded classes. Grantham receives some money from this source for students who attend special classes in Lebanon. This vital and essential program was supported only to an extent of 27% of entitlement.

These two illustrations are given to show why some additional form of taxation is necessary at the state level. It is unfair for the General Court to pass legislation authorizing certain aid and then not take the necessary steps to fund their own laws.

Even though most of us hate to see new taxes voted, the additional help has to come from the state in some form of broad base tax. If the state is to meet its obligations, however, a new program of taxation is necessary. There was a program for a combination sales and income tax in the last session of the General Court that had considerable support. Various groups, including the educational community, are organizing to bring about a revision of the tax structure of the state and, hopefully, we can realize results. As costs increase, the only salvation for the property taxpayer is help from the state. While property taxes will not go down drastically, help from the state is one way to relieve the property taxpayer from assuming most of the increased costs.

BUDGET:

While next year's budget is increased to $46,267.63, compared to $45,110.27 for this year, the actual tax assessment against the town will drop from $28,313.80 to $26,823.24. This is due to two reasons: first, Grantham will have an increase in foundation aid and also will realize a return from the incentive aid program for A.R.E.A. schools. The General Court is expected to correct a mistake in the budget passed last session and funds are now being held for AREA schools will be voted. The only comment that I would like to make at this time is that Grantham has to give serious consideration to raising its teachers' salaries. Districts throughout the area are planning on starting teachers as high as $5,400 and $5,500. If either or both of the present teachers leave, Grantham will find it almost impossible to find replacements for the salaries now being paid.

TUITION:

Grantham has 44 students attending school on a tuition basis as of January 5, 1968; 23 were in the junior high in Lebanon and 13 were at Lebanon High School. Eight students were attending Newport. Next year the number will increase to 46 if all remain in school. Lebanon's tuition rate for next year will be $510 for grades 7-9 and $600 for grades 10-12. These rates are below the state average for the same grades and do not include the rental charge that has been added prior to this present year. Under the Articles of Agreement of the AREA plan, the rental charge was dropped in lieu of additional building aid for Lebanon. There will still be four students attending Newport next year. The number of tuition students will reach its greatest total in 1969-70 and based on present enrollments the number should decrease somewhat. This is based on the fact that we now have 38 pupils in the Village School, with six or seven in each grade. Pre-school enumeration shows that we will have an average of five pupils entering school each year for the next six years. However, with Interstate 89 being completed, I am sure that the town will increase in population and activity. Once this highway is completed, it will be easy for one to travel to and from work several miles away. The town should make some concrete effort to plan for this change.

WARRANT:

Two special articles will appear in the budget; one for issuance of notes to buy the present bus and a second one to enable the District to pay social security benefits for its employees, other than teachers. It is my recommendation that the District buy the present bus and pay for it over a period of four years. If the District decides to lease again, the operating budget will have to be increased as it was drawn up with the idea of buying the vehicle. Proper care and maintenance will make it more economical over the years to own the bus. The present driver takes good care of the bus and judging from the expenses of Lebanon and Plainfield, it would be in the best interests of the District to purchase it.

In order that employees of the District be covered by social security, it must be voted by the people at the annual meeting. It would seem that this is only logical and fair to people who work for the District. It is strongly recommended that the District act favorably on this matter.

NATIONAL MERIT SCHOLAR:

I feel that proper recognition should be given a Grantham student who has recently been selected as a semi-finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Program. Only one per cent of the students taking this test in the entire country achieve this honor, which is why special tribute is paid to Dwight Phetteplace, a senior at Lebanon High School. The results of the semi-final tests have not been announced, but regardless, the citizens of the District should be proud of one of its students.

CONCLUSION:

I would again like to thank the voters, the parents, members of the School Board, the teaching staff and members of the Supervisory Union staff for their interest in the educational program of Grantham. I feel more confident than ever that the Grantham students will continue to show steady improvement as a result of the A R E A vote. The voters and parents are to be commended.

Respectfully submitted,

GORDON R. TATE

Superintendent of Schools

REPORT OF THE ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT

To the Citizens of Grantham:

There have been many significant changes in the Grantham schools since my last report. I would take this opportunity to extend my congratulations to the A R E A Committee, School Board and the citizens of Grantham for the approval of the A R E A plan with Plainfield and Lebanon. Also, the fact that transportation is available will make for a more secure secondary school program for the Grantham children.

It is very encouraging to see that the program of art and music are continuing to function exceptionally well under the able direction of Mrs. Cummings and Mrs. Wendlendt. These two programs have made a very significant contribution to uplifting the cultural horizons of the children, as many of you have witnessed at the very fine programs conducted by the students.

I would say just a few words here about how children learn. I do this in hopes of alleviating concerns that you, as parents, may have regarding the instructional program. Young children must deal first with the most physical and concrete aspects of a subject before they are able to handle the symbolization. In the math program for instance, children's concept of number is taught by handling objects. They are gradually led, through the use of these objects, to write numerals which stand for objects. Most young children do use their fingers to count with, and if one looks at this historically it is in fact how our ancestors first used the concept of number. Our base ten system developed because of the fact that we have ten fingers. Gradually a system of numerals was developed which stood for a certain number of objects. From this early manipulative approach children are led gradually to use the numerals in the processes of addition, subtraction, multiplication and division. Please do not expect your child to be able to use symbols before they have the background for it. After all, it took many thousands of years for man to develop our number system to the degree of sophistication it has today. Insistance on young children handling abstraction which they are not prepared to handle because of parents' desire for better education could be positively harmful and damaging to a child's further educational progress. In simple terms don't be upset if your child still uses his fingers to count with in the early grades. If given proper instruction by a skillful teacher he will overcome this and be able to handle the symbolization when he is ready.

The schools in Supervisory Union #32 are presently engaged in a comprehensive study of the social studies curriculum. At the present time committees are at work evaluating the present curriculum, gathering new curriculum materials and writing a philosophy of social studies education. We are hopeful to have some suggestion for improvement by this coming spring.

In conclusion, may I take this opportunity to say that it is a great pleasure for me to be back on the Supervisory Union #32 educational team. I express my sincere appreciation to all who made it possible.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM E. MERRILL

Assistant Superintendent

REPORT OF SCHOOL NURSEGrantham — 1967

Two successful Immunization Clinics have been held in Grantham this year. There were seventy-five immunizations given in the Spring clinic and thirty-seven at the Fall Clinic. It is important for children to keep their immunization up to date. Both Newport and Lebanon hold regular clinics, and parents are urged to take advantage of these free clinics.

School physicals are planned for January, 1968 and hopefully this service will be continued every three years. Along with height, weights, vision and hearing tests we will be able to detect most problems which may prevent your child from performing to the best of his ability.

I want to express my appreciation for the installation of the telephone at the school. I feel that it is important for the teachers to have easy access to help while they have the responsibility of several students.

I also wish to thank Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Langley, Mr. Tate, the School Board, parents and teachers for their kind co-operation throughout the year.

Respectfully submitted,

EVELYN M. KLOTZ

School Nurse
